GISELA WARBURG

A program highlighted by the appearance of Gisela Warburg, national Youth Aliyah chairman, has been arranged for the annual Donor Luncheon of the Indianapolis Hadassah at 12:30 p. m. Wednesday, March 25, in the Riley Room of the Claypool Hotel.

The program will open with the invocation by Mrs. Elias Charry, which will be followed by the opening remarks of Mrs. David L. Sablosky, president of the Indianapolis Hadassah, and the pledge to the flag, led by Mrs. Leon Levi. Mrs. Irving Newman will lead the pledge to Hadassah. After the singing of the national anthem, Mrs. J. A. Goodman, national board member of Hadassah, will introduce Miss Warburg. The meeting will close with the singing of Hatikvah.

The price of the luncheon is $6.50 and $10.00 for patronesses. Anyone belonging to a minyan may attend by paying $1.50. Reservations should be made with Miss Emma Gelman.

Arranging the program for the affair is Mrs. Ben Paller and Mrs. Charry. All proceeds will go to Youth Aliyah work and the Hadassah Medical Organization.

One of the chief workers for Youth Aliyah in Germany from 1935 to 1938, Miss Warburg has made three trips to Palestine. As a speaker she brings to her audience youthful enthusiasm and charm, a full, first-hand knowledge of Youth Aliyah, and a keen

2 Rabbis Oppose Jewish Army

Rabbi Morris M. Feuerlicht of the Indianapolis Hebrew Congregation and Rabbi Milton Greenwald, of Evansville, are included in the 72 rabbis endorsing a statement issued this week opposing the creation of a Jewish army to fight under its own banner. Although opposing the formation of a strictly Jewish army, the rabbis urge the immediate arming under the British flag of "all Palestinians loyal to the British and the United States."

To Plant Forest For Joseph Vogel

SPECIAL SOUTH BEND—Plans to plant a forest of trees in Palestine in honor of the memory of Joseph Vogel, 54, who died here last Sunday after a two months' illness, were going forward this week. The project is under the direction of Mrs. Barney Sandock, 1303 E. Wayne St., and those wishing to honor Mr. Vogel's memory have been asked to contact her.

Manager of the River Park Theatre here, Mr. Vogel was a member of the B'nai B'rith, the Zionist Organization of America, the American Legion, a member of the board of Sinai Synagogue, and the Elks. ## Terre Haute Federation Hears Robert Herman

SPECIAL TERRE HAUTE—Robert Herman of New York, executive director of the Joint Distribution Committee, was the speaker at a meeting on Wednesday evening, March 18, of the Jewish Welfare Federation in Temple Israel.

Dr. Frank Kingdon To Open Jewish Welfare Fund Drive at Claypool Banquet, April 12

Dr. Frank Kingdon, noted Liberal and former President of Newark University, will be guest speaker of the Jewish Welfare-Defense Rally, Sunday night, April 12 in the Riley Room of the Claypool Hotel, according to the announcement made today by L. L. Goodman, general chairman of this year's Jewish Welfare Fund campaign.

A non-Jew, Dr. Kingdon is well acquainted with Jewish problems, not only overseas, but here at home. According to Mr. Goodman, Dr. Kingdon is interested in preserving the rights of minority groups, and therefore is especially interested in the problem of the Jewish people. A year ago he was awarded the Pi Lambda Phi gold medal, given annually by the Jewish fraternity to the American judged to be the outstanding interpreter of humanitarianism and brotherhood for the year.

He is a special lecturer at Town Hall, New York, at the Institute of Public Affairs of Virginia, and the Williamstown Institute of Human Relations. President Roosevelt has appointed him as Chairman of the Emergency Rescue Committee, and a member of the Executive Committee for the Care of European Children. He is also Chairman of the New York "Fight For Freedom Committee," and is a well-known radio figure.

Since the Riley Room will hold only 700 people at the dinner, plans are being made for capacity attendance. Invitations to the Kingdon dinner will be mailed next week.

SDT, SAMMIES RANK FIRST ON IU CAMPUS IN SCHOLARSHIP

SPECIAL BLOOMINGTON—Once again the Jewish groups on the Indiana University campus have taken the scholastic honors, according to figures released last week by the University officials.

Sigma Delta Tau, for the sixth consecutive semester, led all sororities, and Sigma Alpha Mu took first place among fraternities.

The S. D. T.'s were .1794 over the All-Women Student average, while the S. A. M.'s were .2509 of a point ahead of the All-Mens average.

Since the two organizations, S. D. T. and S. A. M., have been on Indiana's campus, they each have maintained the No. 1 yearly scholastic average among the sororities and fraternities. The S. D. T.'s will retain the Pan-Hellenic scholarship trophy, while the Sammies will regain the Inter-Fraternity scholarship cup which has been theirs twice in the last four semesters.

ALL ROADS LEAD TO CONCLAVE-JAMBOREE

Here are a few bits of conversation which will be picked up on the roads to Kirshbaum Center on March 28 and 29.

"Say Bud—how about a lift?"
"Where am I going?"
"Don't you know?"

"I'm on my way to Indianapolis. What's goin' on? Boy, you better listen. The annual convclave and Jamboree starts Saturday night with a dance and reunion at Kirshbaum Center."

That's what everyone will be hearing next week-end.

One of the most exciting events of this extraordinary week-end will be the ping pong tournament which will take place at 10 a. m. Sunday at Kirshbaum.

The committee has arranged a banquet at the Claypool Hotel. There will be absolutely no long speeches. Norm Weisman is to

Frisch Flays Anti-Army Rabbis In Angry Words

Replying to the seventy-two rabbis who this week issued a statement opposing the formation of a Jewish army, Daniel Frisch, a member of the national executive committee of the Zionist Organizations of America, labelled the rabbis as Jewish Tories, escapologists and assimilationists, in a bitter denunciation.

Mr. Frisch's statement in full follows:

"One of the tragic and unfortunate characteristics of our tragic history is the difficulty brought about by the minority of an ever smaller minority on the vital issues we have had to face in almost every critical hour.

"There were always those among us who, being 'deserters at soul,' try to cover up their desire to escape from the yoke of their Jewish birth. They sometimes hide under the guise of Jewish Welfare and more often by rendering simple lip service to humanitarian ideals.

"The Hitler experience has had at least one beneficial effect, namely, that of prompting multitudes of truly honest souls to reconsider their previously indifferent or hostile attitude towards the basic hope and inescapable possibility for Jewish survival, namely, 'Zionism.'

Called Weak and Apologetic

"Unfortunately, there are some, to be sure not many, (and thank God, ever increasingly less) among the Tories in Jewish life and their pulpit servants who, hopelessly sunk in the quagmire of their past attitudes, now and then attempt, weakly and apologetically, to re-affirm their position as escapologists. They do it on questions of American-Jewish policy, with special emphasis on Palestinian issues. This is why, as I see it, some of these gentlemen now question the right and privilege of the tens of thousand of Palestinian Jews, who are offering their lives in the defense of their Homeland, as a real aid in assuring an Allied victory. These Jews ask only the right to exercise their inalienable right to fight under their own flag and by command in their own language.

"These few well-fed pulpit minions, suffering an overwhelming defeat at the recent democratically conducted conference of the Reform Rabbis at Cincinnati, now continue to follow their established pattern of 'rule or ruin.' They hope now in this abortive minority publicity stunt to attempt to thwart the realization of the age-old hope, and prayer of the Jewish People—the establishment of Zion. Their dying hope is to keep alive the assimilationist banner.

Quotes Herzl

"Herzl, in his 'Eternal Jew', writes:

"There are some people who look to assimilation for the solution of the Jewish question. But what is assimilation? It is certainly not the more or less successful dude who represents one such point of view; it is not the cut of the beard, not the clothes, and not even the habits of one's daily life. Assimilation is the acquisition of soil and honor in a country. The Jews have always been ready for this. Have they been permitted to get it? And where it is permitted today, will it be permitted tomorrow? We Jews in the cultured countries which have become anti-Semitic, wanted to assimilate, but our very attempts to assimilate have called into being modern anti-Semitism, ***

"Only a complete success of Zionism can save the Jews of England from anti-Semitism, for thus the stream of poor and conquering Jews will be diverted. These are simple matters: When the Jews are few, they want them to assimilate, when the number of Jews increase, their assimilation is seen to be a national peril.'

"Thus spoke the greatest Jew of our time more than four decades ago.

"Three decades later, about ten years ago, another immortal and truly spiritual leader in American Israel, Rabbi S. S. Wise, said:

"I would not want to live until tomorrow, if the hope and dream of Palestine were to be taken out of our reach and ken. It is just impossible to think of life, a series of Polands and Hungary, Hitlers and Cuzas. Life would not be worth living if there were not at least the hope of an emergence from Hell and a resurgence to that fullness and freedom and noble creativeness of life which Eretz Israel promises."

"This is why I refuse to be too deeply concerned over statements by a small handful of 'has beens' in their vain attempt to detour Jewish destiny."

THE WAR... and your Telephone

WE SINCERELY APPRECIATE the splendid co-operation shown by telephone users in these busy wartime days. Your continued understanding and helpful attitude is of great assistance to us at this time for, like many other industries, the telephone business is not as usual.

Our government in its all out for victory program has decided that certain civilian needs, not directly a part of the wartime effort, must wait—and we're sure you'll agree it should be that way.

In order to limit the use of critical materials, the War Production Board recently ruled that there be no further installations of extension telephones in private homes except where necessary for the use of those who are charged with responsibilities for the public health, welfare or security.

The Board prohibited replacements of existing wall and desk type telephones with hand sets, except when an instrument is beyond repair... and has ordered that party-line service be installed wherever necessary to conserve materials.

The conversion of manual offices or manual private branch exchanges to dial, and the conversion of one type of manual office to another type also have been restricted.

When a nation hurries it turns to the telephone. Ever since the war in Europe began, there have been enormous increases in the demand for telephone service. During the last two years the Indiana

Bell Telephone Company has spent about $10,000,000 for new plant construction to meet this unparalleled demand. But now certain things we had planned to do in expanding our facilities must wait.

We are endeavoring to make available facilities go as far as possible... to provide some telephone service for those who need it. By accepting four-party service and thus sharing a line with neighbors you permit us to furnish service to more people—and you also aid in the present wartime program.

OUR FIRST BIG JOB is to see that whatever telephone service America needs for war, it will get in full measure. Our next big job is to furnish the best possible service under existing conditions. We are working harder than we ever did before to do just that.

If once in a while your call does not go through as promptly as usual, or if the particular type of service you want is not available, please remember that these are critical times and our government's needs come first.

City and State Mourn Death Of Mrs. Isaac Born

Indianapolis and Indiana mourned this week the death of Mrs. Isaac Born, 68, one of the leading women in the history of the state, who died Monday afternoon at the Methodist Hospital after an illness of four months. Her son, Ferdinand Born, and her daughter, Mrs. Herbert Salus, of Philadelphia, who had come here for an anniversary celebration of Mrs. Mathilda Weil, mother of Mrs. Born, were at her bedside.

Two weeks ago doctors gave Mrs. Born up, but she held on until Monday, when her strength gradually gave way.

Mrs. Born was a leader in organizations of almost every type. She had been commander, and at the time of her death was honorary commander of the Indiana State Women's Field Army for Control of Cancer. She was honorary president and had been president of the White Cross Guilds of Indianapolis; she was the founder of the Indiana State Federation of Temple Sisterhood, and a former president; she was a past president of the Council of Jewish Women and at one time served on the national board. She was a past president of the Indianapolis Hebrew Congregation Sisterhood; she was a past president of the Federation of Jewish Women's Clubs; and she was a member of Hadassah and the Joseph and Anna Borinstein Home for the Aged.

In addition Mrs. Born was one of the early organizers of the League of Women's Voters, a former president of the Suffrage Club, and a member of the Legislative Council of Indiana.

Funeral services, conducted by Rabbi Morris M. Feuerlicht, were held Wednesday afternoon at the Indianapolis Hebrew Congregation. Burial was in the Indianapolis Hebrew Congregation cemetery.

Survivors are her husband, her son, her mother, of Rockport; her daughter, a sister, Mrs. Louis Wiener, of Rockport; a brother, Benjamin Weil, of Indianapolis, and four grandchildren.

Call Issued For Women Drive Workers

Mrs. J. A. Goodman and Mrs. David Lurvey, co-chairmen of the Women's Division of the 1942 Jewish Welfare Fund Campaign, in view of the increased responsibility that is to be put on the Women's Division this year, issued a call for additional volunteers. At the same time a mass meeting for women workers was also announced.

"We want women to take the places of the young men who have gone to the colors," said Mrs. Goodman, "because in the past these young men have been the workers who have done so much soliciting in the previous campaigns. This year," she continued, "on account of the war condition, the women are going to have to shoulder much more of the responsibility for the solicitation of pledges and we need to double the size of the women's army that we have had in past years."

Although solicitation doesn't start actually until April 13, arrangements have been made for two mass meetings of women workers at Kirshbaum Center on Monday night, April 6, and Tuesday morning, April 7. Both meetings will be addressed by Robert Herman, who is coming from New York especially to give instructions to the women workers.

Special care will be used Mrs. Goodman promised, so that this year each worker will be assigned to a very limited district for her work. All pledges will be in that particular district, and workers

Arthur

ARTHUR, CHILD of refugees, lay in his crib behind the plate glass window through which relatives and friends look at the new-born at our Jewish Hospital. He was one of many in the nursery and if you cared to moralize about it you might work up ideas on the essential unity of mankind as observed through this window behind which these new-born sleep.

You would say that the new-born just recently come unspoiled out of creation all look like God's children together and there is no telling which is the Catanzaro and which the Levy, the Margolis and the Schmidt, the Shapiro and the Murphy.

This would be obvious philosophy and not at all original but it is what would naturally run through your head if you went to look at Arthur among his contemporaries behind the window and tried to roll up the significance of his birth in a small bundle.

Arthur's birth in America was one of the few happier tricks of current history in which destiny has been handling people like dice, and who knows which way the dice will fall at the next shake? And who, for that matter, knows anything for certain in these times?

If his parents, long ago, thought of some day bringing an Arthur into the world, they had in mind a German Arthur who would grow up to be a credit to the German nation, a Jew, who, as his kinsmen always had done, would do well by Germany.

But here, instead, was Arthur born in these strange times when people are uprooted in the dreadful storms and are blown about like dust. Arthur's father was grateful for the ill wind that had blown so good for him as to drop him on the soil of America. He had lost everything but he had gained America as an inheritance for his son. His face glowed as in a bright dawn in the springtime.

Yes, Arthur's being born looked like a matter of considerable weight in the world, even though he himself was no more than 7½ pounds. He was a brand new American line starting. He was the first of his people born out of Germany in hundreds of years; the graves of his ancestors are old, old graves in Germany, as deep-rooted as oaks in the Schwarzwald.

He was the American saga starting all over again, the monumental story of new and vigorous and brave American life growing out of the travail of the persecuted and disinherited who come, homeless, to these gates and are taken in.

It had all begun with the Mayflower and here, 310 years later, was Arthur, another child of the persecuted, a living symbol, in the year 1942, of our noblest tradition. More than years stood between the Mayflower and Arthur. There was a chain of history from the Pilgrims even unto Arthur... chain of life linked together by the hearts of the persecuted... hearts of the Pilgrims, hearts of Germans who fled from persecutions in other times, hearts of Russians, Poles and Jews, hearts of the Irish, hearts of Huguenots... brave hearts that came wandering this way and stopped here and built America. From the Mayflower unto Arthur: It was exquisite continuity.

One might look solemnly at Arthur, a new chapter in the American epic, as one looks with bared head at some landmark of American history; or, in another mood, one might sing "God Bless America."

I am well acquainted with Arthur's parents. The fine-faced gentleman who is his father and who sells stationery; the pretty little woman, who is his mother and who plays the violin and teaches French and Spanish. They were from the Frankfurt-on-the-Main, but then they were also from Italy and Cuba. Germany, Italy, Cuba, United States had been the course of their Odyssey since Hitler became the most hideous fact of modern history.

Frankfurt was their ancestral home; the beginning of their people in Frankfurt was in the mists of history. Their life in Frankfurt had seemed as permanent as any of the Frankfurt's ancient memorials. Arthur's father was in the leather goods business in Frankfurt. It was his pride and the pride of his kinsmen that, as far back as anyone could remember, they had always been upstanding people.

From their ancient home they fled to Italy. That was before the time Mussolini became Hitler's utensil. In Italy Arthur's father established himself in a new business that gave employment to Italians and he thanked God he had something to contribute to the well-being of his new country; he wasn't a mere wayfarer come to eat off the land without having anything to give.

But, then, after a few years he had to be on his way again. Mussolini was imitating the Nuremberg manners of Hitler and there was no more room for Jews in Italy. Arthur's parents looked about the world for a place where wanderers might stop awhile. Well, there was Cuba. From Cuba they might in time enter the United States, if everything was alright, if their papers were in order, if they obtained a number in the quota.

So, in time, the wandering of Arthur's parents came to a safe harbor in America two years ago and they thanked God for this sanctuary, for this free air, for the roof they had (it was far from as spacious as the old roof in Frankfurt, but it's a blessed thing, the way people learn to do with much less gratefully.)

Now they could let Arthur be born.

That's about all to say of Arthur's beginning. I shall make a further report on him on his 21st birthday in the year 1963. I know even now how I shall start that column. "This is Arthur's 21st birthday. He is the Arthur whose birth I reported in March, 1942. I remember how grateful his father was that Arthur had inherited America. It was a moment of mortal peril for America but Arthur's father had faith in the inheritance. He was sure it would turn out alright in accordance with the ancient experience of the human kind that has seen transgressors come ultimately to the abysmal dust, in accordance with the teaching in the sacred books. And it did turn out alright, as we know. It was a good inheritance."

JOTTINGS

Phil Smith surprised all by offering his fraternity pin to Eileen Satz—and she surprised him by taking it. Ed Rose prefers brunettes, his two choices being Kiki Zimmerman and Ruthie Rosenthal—he might be called a Rose caught between two thorns. But that would be most unfair to both attractive girls, so let's just call it the eternal triangle and let it go at that. Lenore Bergarr has shyly confessed that she and Bob have a blessed event,, to look forward to this year. Harry Einstead has been seen about town again, waiting to leave for the Air Corps soon. Harry is several pounds lighter, and is a good example of the improvement that army life can make. Harry, in case you don't know, was slated to leave with his company in the Army for overseas duty when he received notice that his application for enlistment in the Air Corps had been granted. His Company left two days later.

MORE JOTTINGS

Sapphire Room Friday evening: Izzy Katz, Irene and Bob Benjamin, the Rosenbergs, Ruth Rosenthal, Ed Rose. Butzie Olshewitz was seen wandering about town last week, home from school in Chicago.

This picture of our columnist at Miami Beach is being printed at Eaton's Friday evening without her knowledge.

Marge Raab and Bob Kahn, Bob saying farewell before leaving for California to become a part of Uncle Sam's Army. Minus a bit of blood but feeling a happy patriotic glow, such was the state of the following fellows recently: Harry Stein, Joe Budnick, Joe Liebowitz, Al Goldstein, Nate Sacks, Irv Self, Morris Bryan, Julius Bryan, and Max Rifkin. Fred Tuchman is supposedly in the dark land of Africa.

THE SAMMY DANCE

The SAMMIES virtually poured to Indianapolis from Purdue, Indiana University, and other parts of Indiana last week end. The dance Saturday evening was a perfect example of the Sammy "hail fellow well met" personality. Despite the conspicuous absence of many of the active alumnae (most of whom are in the army now), the affair was quite gay and full of camaraderie. Among the many Sammies and dates drifting about the dance floor at Antlers were seen Lou and Bernie Finkle, Lou in his natty uniform of Navy ensign, and Bernie come all the way from his home in N. J. to see his old fraternity brothers. Ernie Rayfield, Mort Marx, Prior George Brick of Purdue Chapter, Dick Black (reaching the old age of 22 at midnight amidst many congratulations from his friends), Jud Frommer, Irv Glazer, Ben May, Burt Kohn, Joe Barrett (minus date as usual), Irene and Nate Regen, Tete Dann and wife, "Colonel" Herb Backer, Natalie Stolkin revealing her golden tan received in Miami recently, Phyllis Maier-son, Irv Summerfield, Ruth Adele Levin, Bud Bolotin, Sid Schechter and fiancée Florence Reisner, Ann Kahn, Chairman Sol Blickman wandering about spreading genial hospitality on all, Phil Trockman and fiancée of Evansville, Leah Schneider, Diane Cohen, Joe Tuchman (who finally lifted his nose from his medical books long enough to enjoy the affair, and then back to the grind), Alvin Cohen and wife, Bud Lipner, Sam New (with a new waistline; well, less of one anyhow, and proud of it), Mary Schneider, and so many many others. Everyone seemed to be taking the advice of Tete Dann given at the Banquet to "have a wonderful time, for who knows what tomorrow will hold."

OLD HOME NIGHT

Saturday night at the Variety Club looked like Old Home night for many old members were back, principally Hal Marshall and Jerry Adams, on furlough from Camp Shelby. Looking better than ever, and in fine spirits, Hal and Jerry took over the floor show and turned the place into a recruiting office. The result was riotous, and enjoyed by all. Herman Levitt, Annette Herman, Shirley and Art Londe, Ruby and Max Zimet, Marv Farber, Rae Lea Binzer, Gabe and Leo Wagman were just a few of those who joined in the fun.

NORMAN HAS A PROBLEM

If you see Norman Weisman going about with a married expression on his face you may be sure that it is due to the great problem in his life—the Conclave banquet. This banquet is to be a surprise to all—and a pleasure. Incidentally, all the whispering and conspiring you may see about is due to the Jamboree coming up the 29th of this month.

Louisville Bowlers Dominate Post Tourney Sunday

With the representatives of the Louisville lodge of B'nai B'rith taking first place in both the team and singles play, the second annual Jewish Post bowling tournament went off without a hitch Sunday with 15 teams from six cities participating.

Hitting the maples for a total of 2,893, the Louisville No. 1 team headed by Louis Perlip, won the large Indiana Fur Co. trophy and $20 in cash. Other members of the team were Sid Baer, Joe Levine, K. Waldman and H. Greenberg.

Louisville took home the large R. Domont and Sons trophy too when Irvin Brill toppled the pins for a total of 676. He also won the $10 first place prize money.

The Indianapolis Yanks team finished in second place in team play, only 9 pins behind the winners, with a total of 2,884. Captain Jack Falk, Sam Mantel, S. Scheff, Leon Kempler and Mort Asher divided $10 in cash between them.

Louisville made an almost clean sweep of the team prizes when its No. 4 team captained by Max Stoler landed in third place with 2,848. Fourth place went to the Indianapolis Tigers, Sam Kroot, captain, with 2,826. Other team members were L. Sagalowsky, N. Freeman, Sid Seligman and Liebert Mossler.

In the singles, Harold Seligman, of Louisville, took second place and $7.50 in prize money with 613; Sol Ellenstein of Evansville's Thisbe lodge, finished third with a total of 606, to win $5; Cliff Kohen, of South Bend, garnered 605, for fourth place and $4, and Henry Jacob of Louisville finished fifth with 604.

Bud Mossler's 601 tied him for sixth place with M. Stone; while Percy Davis' 589 was good for eighth. In ninth spot was Jack Pozner of Indianapolis, while K. Waldman and Joe Levine of Louisville tied for tenth with 578 each. All ten winners were awarded cash prizes.

The merchandise awards are being distributed to the next nine singles finishers. I. R. Gumer, of Louisville, won the electric pants presser donated by Jack Falk; S. Goldman of Evansville, won a pint of whiskey; Sam Kroot won the case of Dad's Root Beer, given by the City Bottling Works; Ben Weinstein of South Bend won the Tech Gillette razor and shaving cream given by Meyer B. Cohen's Ace Drug Co.; Jack Fine of Louisville, won two pair of socks donated by Norman Weisman's The Sale Store; Norman Weisman won an assortment of canned fancy fruits given by Billy Meyers Sr., of the J. P. Michael Co.; Marshall Schlossberg, of Anderson, won a certificate for a birthday cake from the Regen Baking Co; Ben Reck of South Bend, won a lace table cloth donated by Sid Shane of the Household Specialty Co. and Irv Lebowitz won a free meal from Sam's Subway.

Prize and money awards were made at the B'nai B'rith banquet Sunday night at Kirshbaum Center by Norman Weisman and Sam Kroot. The two and Jack Falk managed the tournament, which was described as one of the smoothest running affairs many bowlers had participated in.

The Editor's Chair:

A letter to Al Segal.

Dear Mr. Segal:

Last Friday morning, after The Post had gone to press, my wife gave birth to a daughter, so that The Post was scooped on the publisher's own baby. Last year, my second son, was born under the very same circumstances, after The Post had already been "put to bed." My second son, who is two-and-a-half years old, called me on the phone this week, and demanded I bring him home a "gun because I want to shoot two Japs." When asked how about Hitler, he said, "I don't know him."

What would you do?

I just learned the circumstances of the death of Rabbi Adolph Burger, whom, if you recall, I wrote about several weeks ago. I wrote that Rabbi Burger was stricken as he addressed a Zionist meeting in St. Petersburg, Fla. I now learn, and I know that Zionist workers will appreciate this, that he died with a $5 bill in his hand, the sole results of his talk to the St. Petersburg Jewish community for new members. That's just about what it takes to get Zionist membership from some people.

I have a reply this week from "South Bend Jewess" to the letter in last week's paper from Anti-Fascist. It's a long reply however, and since it could hardly bear pruning, I decided to hold it up until the Passover issue, which will be out in just a few weeks.

Youngsters Guests Of Beth El Sisterhood

As has been the custom in previous years, mothers are to invite their youngsters to this luncheon as guests and the program is planned for the younger set's interest.

The luncheon committee in charge are the Mesdames Leo Shane, Sidney Shane and Albert Shane and their assistants.

Troop 65, Girl Scouts, of the Communal building have elected Benita Abravaya president. Others named are Anna Lee Schuman, vice-president, and Marjorie Sher, secretary.

Opportunity For Local Women

THE WAR brings many changes. In the past, it was up to the men to do the soliciting of pledges in the Jewish Welfare Fund campaign. This year it is going to be up to the women to take over that responsibility.

This is as it should be since so many of the young men who formerly worked in the campaign are now in the army and also because so many of the older men are engaged in war work.

Here is a job now that the women can do, and we do not doubt but what they will promptly answer the call for the volunteers. Of the 3,000 prospective givers to the campaign, it is planned to have over 2,000 of them solicited by the Women's Army. As in all other instances where a job had to be done, so in this pressing case of the 1942 Jewish Welfare Fund drive our Indianapolis women will most assuredly respond, and with alacrity.—L. L. G.

No Coercion, Oh No!

IN EXPLAINING the position of the Council of Jewish Welfare Funds in a letter in The Congress Bulletin, Sidney Hollander, president of the organization states that "if a favorable result (unity) is achieved, it will not be because of any coercion or threats the Council will use."

This is not a fair statement of the present situation.

Coercion and threats both were voiced at the meeting of the Council of Jewish Welfare Funds and Federation.

The coercion comes from Cincinnati, in the announcement made by Rabbi James G. Heller that the Cincinnati welfare fund had held up $25,000 earmarked for the Big Four in a deliberate effort to bring them to their senses in regards to unity.

The threats were heard on every hand at the session, and should not be attributed to any one city or speaker or representative.

Mr. Hollander may be explaining his own position in the matter, but certainly he cannot be talking for the constituent members of his organization.

A Chance To Help

JEWISH POST readers have a splendid opportunity to make possible the continuance of the Middle West's finest Jewish radio program in the appeal for the "Synagogue of the Air" published in our Freedom of the Press column this week. Those who have listened to this inspiring program broadcast from Cincinnati each Saturday morning, know that the beautiful service must reach many listeners whose previous knowledge of the Jewish religion was anything from the best to the worst, depending upon their background and contacts. The "Synagogue of the Air" deserves to be kept alive. Its voice should not be stilled, and Indiana listeners, all of whom probably tune in WLW with ease, must feel a share in the responsibility that the imminent discontinuance of this program thrusts upon them.

Mrs. Born's Versatility

THE OUTSTANDING impression of the review of the life of Mrs. Isaac Born, who died Monday as the leading Jewish woman citizen of Indiana, was the versatility of her works. Other Jewish women have been presidents of important Jewish organizations, and other Jewish women have confined their activities to organizations of general interest, but only in the very rarest instances have Jewish women found time for work and leadership in both categories.

Mrs. Born's family background had been one of achievement in community welfare circles, and she added luster to that family tradition. Her loss is one that will long be felt, for women such as she come not once in a generation, but often only once.

Current Comment

Anti-Jewish Prejudice in Indiana Attacked by Harry Francis in The Sentinel—Speaking of intolerance in general the writer cannot ignore the un-American racial prejudices abounding in their anxious times. Notably the anti-Jewish propaganda that one sees widely spread in all parts of the state and nation, too.

Record of the Jewish people in Indiana and throughout the nation certainly shows their loyalty, public spirited interest in the state and nation and their splendid contribution to the progress of the United States. Yet there are those who would cast aside such a demonstration of patriotic endeavor in an attack upon these people. This is intolerance that stop immediately.

Jewish people have entered into the various phases of our community life with an enthusiasm and fervor that most certainly marked them as whole-heartedly in sympathy with our state and nation. Surely to attack them is the greatest folly.

The Sentinel believes that such attacks are entirely unjustified and are the work of irresponsible persons. WE believe that the public is not greatly impressed with such an attack and knows the source of it. These attacks, however, have caused considerable harm in various quarters and The Sentinel wishes to take its place beside publications and organizations refuting these attacks.

By informing the people of Indiana of these attacks against the Jewish families The Sentinel feels that it has done much for the cause of TOLERANCE and to restore confidence among the Jewish population of the state. We wish to make it possible for an expose of this nefarious propaganda to reach everyone in the state. Jewish people, too, must defend themselves against these attacks and must utilize the agencies and press friendly to them.

Stumble Over Organization Presidents, Youngstown Jewish Times Says—Often in these columns have we inveighed against the woeful overlapping of programs and activities among our local Jewish organizations. And diligently have we prayed for that moment when amalgamation would set in to ease the strain on the community's nerves.

Apparently those entreaties were heard for there comes an answer in the form of a combined Men's Club group representing seven congregations in the city. The purposes of the larger unit are the same as those of each of its components, largely communal, social and cultural, but the combined Men's Club will have the distinct advantage of concentrated manpower and centralization of leadership and administration.

The formation of this body is proof conclusive that Jews can work hand-in-glove with their fellow-Jews and that they have the happy faculty of give and take if it is properly nurtured.

This is a happy augur, this combined Men's Club, that some day, with Heaven's blessing, the plague of over-organization will be lifted from our fair countryside and we may take three paces to the right or left without stumbling over, a president.
